Special Enrollment Period (SEP)

Idahoans who have lost employer-sponsored health insurance as a result of termination, layoff, or furlough due to COVID-19 are eligible for an SEP.

Previously this process would require several steps of documentation and validation. Under the new, relaxed policy, Idahoans can submit a written statement explaining their loss of employer health benefits.

This new process removes time-consuming barriers and ensures an expedited path to coverage. Visit Your Health Idaho.

Carrier Concerns on SEP

- 1. Loyal clients may end up paying extra due to new clients coming on board who may not stay with the carrier passed a few months.
- 2. There are misunderstandings as to who already qualifies for an SEP—clarity is needed.
- 3. Carriers established rates a year ago based on certain morbidity and claim assumptions. To change those assumptions mid-year creates problems.
- 4. Carriers are concerned about long-range costs. Will current enrollees be able to change plans mid-year?
- 5. Carriers are concerned about the precedent of doing an SEP for a medical issue. Instead, they encourage people to buy during open enrollment and use short-term plans to fill the gap.
- 6. Carriers are concerned about the ability and length of time it would take to mobilize. For example, Washington state just extended SEP after the initial 2 weeks.

Stay-Home Order

Governor Little issued a statewide Stay-Home Order on March 25, 2020 for the protection of all Idahoans during the COVID-19 pandemic.

- a. Everything is being done according to CDC and the Epidemiologist Council to the working group and to the team.
  - i. Attempting to slow the curve.

b. Insurance is essential

- i. Specifically, "industry" or carriers
  - 1. Still maintaining only essential functions
