Consider Buying Flood Insurance

- Severe summer storms have occurred across the state, and with that comes a reminder that anywhere it rains, it can flood. The DOI is urging home and business owners to evaluate their flood risk and consider purchasing a flood insurance policy. A homeowner's insurance policy does not typically cover flood damage, so policyholders will need a separate policy to be covered.

Roofing Contractor Red Flags

- Unexpected weather such as hail storms and severe wind can cause significant structural damage to homes, particularly the roof. Contractors serve an important role in the property building and repair process. Unfortunately, there are some contractors attempting to take advantage of you.

Administration

- The Idaho Department of Insurance held a public meeting to receive comments on DOI's Intent to Promulgate Rulemaking on Tuesday, June 27, 2023. Nine rules are being considered as part of the DOI's plan to review each rule every five years. The full notice is published in the June 7, 2023 Idaho Administrative Bulletin.

Company Activities

- Director Dean Cameron has authorized the Idaho Department of Insurance to allow applicants for resident insurance producer licenses to request a temporary license, pending review of their criminal history reports. State Fire Marshal

- The Idaho State Fire Marshal's Office instructed Basic Fire Investigation for the First Responder to firefighters and law enforcement in Rigby, Idaho. This class is based on the curriculum from the National Fire Academy and includes hands on experience in identifying the origin and cause of fires.

The Idaho Department of Insurance has been regulating the business of insurance in Idaho since 1901. The mission of the Department is to equitably, effectively and efficiently administer the Idaho Insurance Code and the International Fire Code. For more information visit doi.idaho.gov.
